

REMARKS

Claims 1 to 31 were pending in the application at the time of examination. Claims 1 to 31 stand rejected as obvious.

Applicant(s) have amended the description to properly reflect the status of the U.S. Patent Applications cited therein.

Claims 1 to 31 stand rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 102(e) as being unpatentable over U.S. Patent Application Publication No. 2005/0138354 of Saltz, hereinafter referred to as Saltz.

Applicant respectfully traverses the anticipation rejection of Claim 1. Applicant respectfully notes that in an anticipation rejection, it is not sufficient that a reference use some of the same terms as recited in Applicant's claims, but rather the "The identical invention must be shown in as complete detail as is contained in the ... claim." MPEP §2131, 8th. Ed., Rev. 3, p. 2100-76 (August 2005).

Applicant notes that the burden is on the Examiner to demonstrate that Saltz shows the identical invention as required by the MPEP. If the rejection fails to meet the requirements for an anticipation rejection, a prima facie anticipation rejection has not been established. As discussed more completely below, a prima facie anticipation rejection has not been made because explicit claim limitations were not cited as being taught by Saltz, and Saltz fails to teach the invention in the same level of detail as recited in Claim 1.

Saltz stated:

. . . As FIG. 2 illustrates, a plurality of Java Card.TM. applications (or applets) A, B, C, D, E, F and G may reside on the Java Card.TM. platform 202 (or Java Card.TM.). . . . The Java Card.TM. applets A, B, C, D, E, F, G and H can be instantiated when loaded and stay alive when the power is switched off. As such, a card applet can behave in a similar way as a server and remain passive. In other words, after the card platform 202 is powered up, an applet can remain inactive until it's selected, at which time initialization may be done (Emphasis Added)

Saltz, paragraph [0047]

The rejection cited this paragraph 0047 as teaching "instantiating the applications on the card." Therefore, the rejection takes the position that applications A to G read on the application recited in Claim 1.

Claim 1 also recites in part:

configuring the application in accordance with the stored AID, wherein the application is configured in accordance with said at least one customization parameter (Emphasis Added)

The rejection stated;

- Configuring the application (Specification par. 0040, 0050, 0069, Figs. 3A-8)

Applicant respectfully notes that the rejection did not address the claim limitation as a whole. In view of the above requirement of the MPEP, this alone is sufficient to overcome the rejection, because the rejection has not alleged that Saltz teaches the invention to the same level of detail as recited in Claim 1.

Moreover, Paragraph [0040] does not mention the applications of paragraph [0047], an AID or a customization parameter in the AID, but rather "frameworks for a configurable firewall" are discussed. Paragraph [0050] discussed "firewall protection provided by the Runtime Environment (JCRE 208) is configurable." Paragraph [0069] discussed "a control block 370," and stated "control block 370 provides the flexibility to use various techniques for implementing configurable firewalls..."

The rejection identified applications as being different from the firewall of Saltz, as noted above. Accordingly, since the rejection cited to configuring firewalls and not the application of paragraph [0047], the rejection itself establishes that Saltz fails to teach the element of Claim 1 quoted above in the same level of detail as recited in Claim 1. Applicant requests reconsideration and withdrawal of the anticipation rejection of Claim 1.

Claims 2 to 11 depend from Claim 1 and so distinguish over Saltz for at least the same reasons as Claim 1. Applicant respectfully requests reconsideration and withdrawal of the anticipation rejection of each of Claims 2 to 11.

Claim 12 is an apparatus claim that includes "wherein the application is configured in accordance with said at least one customization parameter from the stored AID." Again, the rejection did not address this limitation. This limitation is similar to that discussed above with respect to Claim 1 and so the above remarks with respect to Claim 1 are applicable and are incorporated herein by reference. Applicant requests reconsideration and withdrawal of the anticipation rejection of Claim 12.

Claims 13 to 19 depend from Claim 12 and so distinguish over Saltz for at least the same reasons as Claim 12. Applicant respectfully requests reconsideration and withdrawal of the anticipation rejection of each of Claims 13 to 19.

Claim 20 is an apparatus claim that includes limitations similar to those discussed above with respect to Claim 1. Accordingly, the above comments with respect to Claims 1 are incorporated herein by reference. Applicant requests reconsideration and withdrawal of the anticipation rejection of Claim 20.

Claim 21 is a computer product claim that includes limitations similar to those discussed above with respect to Claim 1. Accordingly, the above comments with respect to Claims 1 are incorporated herein by reference. Applicant requests reconsideration and withdrawal of the anticipation rejection of Claim 21.

Claims 22 to 31 depend from Claim 21 and so distinguish over Saltz for at least the same reasons as Claim 21. Applicant respectfully requests reconsideration and withdrawal of the anticipation rejection of each of Claims 22 to 31.

Claims 1 to 31 remain in the application. For the foregoing reasons, Applicant(s) respectfully request allowance of all pending claims. If the Examiner has any questions relating to the above, the Examiner is respectfully requested to telephone the undersigned Attorney for Applicant(s).
